

Italian designer Vhernier for $5,600.00. The proceeds were donated to their official charitable partner for the event, Equestrian Aid Foundation (EAF) which assists those in the horse community suffering from catastrophic injury or illness during their time of need. EAF President R. Scot Evans said, "We were thrilled to welcome the Lusitano Collection™ as they attract people from all over the world to this action-packed winter season in Wellington. After all, it is here in Wellington where it all began for EAF 16 years ago."

With the shout of a whistle, Brazilian Latin Sounds created a spectacular performance with brightly-costumed "Rhythm Beaters" delivering pulsing rhythms that enticed scantily-clad samba dancers, with large feathered headdresses, to move their hips to the exhilarating beat. The carnival-style atmosphere brought the guests to their feet as a train of participants and performers wove dancing lines
